3-Car Crash Kills Lexington Girl

Brother, Marine Injured

Trio On Way To Mt. Gilead

LEXINGTON—A 15-year-old Lexington high school girl lay dead today as the result of a head-on collision of an automobile and a gasoline-laden truck two miles east of Mt. Gilead.

Her 14-year-old brother and a 20-year-old Marine lay in critical condition in Mansfield General hospital.

The dead:

Donna Jean Potts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Potts, Lexington, R. D. 2, killed outright as result of internal injuries and shock.

The injured:

Glenn Dale Rinehart, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rinehart, Lexington, R. D. 2; double fracture of left leg, compound fracture of right leg, fracture of skull; condition critical. Ted Potts, brother of Donna Jean, cerebral concussion, fractured right leg, lacerations of head and body and contusions.

Donna Jean

Walter Augustus Darfus, 43, of Newark, driver of the truck, minor bruises.

MARINE AT WHEEL

State highway patrolmen from the Marion station said Rinehart, a Marine on furlough, was driving the automobile in which the Potts children were riding.

As he neared Maple Grove Lake north of Mount Gilead on Route 42 about 8:15 last night, Rinehart started to pass an automobile driven by Belle Edna Dawson, 95 Walnut street, Mt. Gilead. His automobile sideswiped Mrs. Dawson's car.

Both Darfus and Rinehart steered toward the ditch, the vehicles colliding headon.

The truck, owned by the Ohio Farm Bureau, was filled with 4,800 gallons of gasoline. Although a fourth of the load was spilled, no fire resulted.

HEADED FOR DANCE

Rinehart and the Potts children were headed south to Mt. Gilead to attend a Grange square dance.

News of the accident spread gloom through Lexington high school this morning. Donna Jean, a sophomore, and Ted, a freshman, were among the school's most popular pupils.

Their brother, William, 17, a junior, plays first base on the school's baseball team. He was missing today when the saddened team left for Old Fort to play in a high school tournament.

Supt. H. L. Hofacre described the high school as "like a morgue." School officials considered for a time the advisability of dismissing classes for the day.

Members of the tenth grade made plans to attend Donna Jean's funeral in a body.

FUNERAL SATURDAY

Services will be held Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the family home near Steam Corners, north of Johnsville, with Revs. Davis and Kunze officiating. The Craven funeral home of Mt Gilead will have charge.

Donna Jean, in addition to her brothers and parents, leaves her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Nellie Norris. She was born Aug. 1, 1932 at New London.

Both Donna Jean and Ted were active in the Jug's Corner Grange and in 4-H club work.

Rinehart, recently returned from two years of service in China with the U. S. Marines, was home on a "delay en route" furlough while on his way to report at the Marine base at Parris Island, S. C., next week. He is a 1945 Lexington high school graduate.

Tornado Damages Oklahoma Town

BLOCKER, Okla.—(AP)—A tornado lashed this tiny southeast Oklahoma community last night, ripping up four houses and a church and damaging every one of the other 16 homes here.

No deaths were reported. Blocker is 15 miles northwest of McAlester, Okla.

Steelman Calls Rail Parley

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The White House today called a conference of railroad brotherhood chiefs for tomorrow to try to head off the railroad strike set for May 11.

Dr. John R. Steelman, presidential assistant and labor expert, telephoned the heads of three unions which have called a strike for next Tuesday. He asked them to meet with him at 10 a. m. (EST) tomorrow.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross, who made the announcement, was asked if any definite proposal would be presented to the brotherhood leaders.

"I can't say any more than I have," Ross replied.

The brotherhood leaders are Alvanley Johnston of the Locomotive Engineers, David B. Robertson of the Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and A. J. Glover of the Switchmen's Union.

Johnston, who was in Cleveland today, said he would leave for Washington tonight. Robertson is already here.

Johnston told reporters Steelman indicated to him that he wanted to talk first with the union men, then call in representatives of railroad management.

KEEPING IN TOUCH

Steelman has been keeping in constant touch with the railroad situation and reporting to President Truman.

Ross was asked whether Steelman would have a similar conference with representatives of the railroads.

"I can't say as yet," Ross said. "I have told you all that has been done to date."

Steelman reached Glover by telephone at Buffalo and got assurance Glover would attend. Robertson said he would.

White House aides would not discuss what possible action might be taken if Steelman cannot persuade the parties to reach an agreement.

They turned aside such questions as whether Mr. Truman will talk personally with the disputants, whether the union leaders might be asked to postpone the strike date, or whether the government might seize the railroads.

GOP Rivals Both Happy

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Harold E. Stassen's capture of nine Ohio Republican presidential delegates today was called victory or defeat—depending on which way you looked.

Sen. Robert A. Taft won the other 14 contested delegates, plus 30 without opposition from the former Minnesota governor, nearly complete returns showed.

Both Taft and Stassen hailed the outcome of Tuesday's primary election as a personal victory. Their delegates are pledged to support them for the GOP presidential nomination at the national convention next month.

Taft from Washington said his 44 Ohio delegates assured him of more first ballot convention votes than any other candidate.

Stassen said his was a "clear cut victory—one of the most significant developments of the entire national campaign."

Carrington T. Marshall, Columbus attorney and former chief justice of the Ohio Supreme court, was Stassen's only delegate-at-large candidate. Vi" nine to be elected on a state-wide basis, Marshall ran a distant tenth.

Sen. John W. Bricker led the at-large field with 410,513 votes with 9180 of 9385 polling places reported. Ed D. Schorr of Cincinnati, former state GOP chairman, was lowest of the nine winners with 330,524. Marshall ran out with 318,871.

Girl's Shooting Story Checked

WHEATON, Ill. —(UP)— Investigators today checked the possibility that Frances Korbelik, 17, had an accomplice when she killed her father last January.

The dark-haired girl confessed that she shot her father, William, 42, president of the CIO United Steelworkers Local 2840, after he raped her in the living room of their home near Hinsdale, Ill.

HOW YOU STAND IN HOUSE DRAFT BILL—If you're a male between ages 19 and 25 you'll probably be subject to military draft for tyo years' service by the time the lawmakers go home for summer. House armed services committee okay of a draft law—without UMT—and indicated Republican support makes passage almost a cinch. The bill calls for registration of males 18 to 30, with those 19 to 25 liable for service. But there will be exceptions: In addition to those listed at right, high school pupils would be deferred until graduation or age 20, college students till the end of the academic year they are called. The bill is designed to raise armed service manpower from 1,384,000 to 2,006,000 by 1950.

MAJOR ESCAPE HATCHES

- Veterans (more than one year's service)
- Purple Heart veterans
- Ministers
- Reserves (if members before bill becomes law)

School Bids Too High

Offers 50 Per Cent Above Bond Limit

Springfield township's plans for a new 12-classroom addition faced an uncertain fate today.

Bids were opened yesterday and the lowest of them was more than 50 per cent in excess of the $200,000 in bonds voted for the construction.

Harold Marshall, school board president, said the high cost of labor and material probably would force a revision in the plans.

Low bids included $273,262 for the building, submitted by W. H. Howard company of Columbus, $38,350 for heating and $28,450 for plumbing, submitted by the United Plumbing company of Galion, and $5,352 for electrical fixtures and wiring submitted by the Bellville Electric company.

Charles J. Marr of New Philadelphia, architect, said various alternate construction proposals would result in a $100,000 reduction in the approximate cost.

Board members will meet Tuesday to analyze the bids and determine action to be taken.

Marr said it was probable that a plan to remodel the auditorium would be abandoned.

Reds Oppose Korean Vote

SEOUL — (UP) — Army-trained communist agents have landed on Cheju island, 50 miles south of Korea, to direct guerrillas in a terrorism campaign connected with next Monday's elections, the U. S. military governor of Korea charged today

Sixty persons have been killed in bloody rioting on the island since April 2.

Maj Gen. William F. Dean, who has just returned from an inspection trip there said separate investigations by him and South Korean officials led to the conclusion that agents of the North Korean communist army had been landed.

They were sent, he said, to "induce misinformed young men to murder people favoring the elections and to burn their homes."

Defense Measure Being Prepared

Manpower Bill Will Link UMT to Draft

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Problem of shaping an armed forces manpower bill which would meet the need of building up the reserve forces continued today in the Senate armed service committee.

Chairman Gurney (R-SD), hopeful that he will be able to report the combination draft and military training measure this week, conferred with Chairman Andrews (R-NY) of the House armed services committee, which already has approved a straight draft bill.

House leadership opposition to anything resembling universal military training appears to be the stumbling block in the Senate discussions with Andrews.

The Andrews bill calls for a draft of youths 19 through 25 for two years' service in the armed forces. The Senate bill now being completed carries this plus a draft of 18-year-olds for one year of training in the regular forces.

PREDICTS APPROVAL

Meanwhile Acting GOP Leader Wherry (R-Neb) predicted overwhelming Senate approval of the 70-group Air Force appropriation bill today.

Wherry's forecast was backed by the opinion of other Republicans and some Democrats who said the Senate vote will be unanimous for the House-passed plane procurement legislation.

Republican leaders gave the measure top priority. Sen. Bridges (R-NH), appropriations chairman, flew back to Washington from his home state to call up the bill at noon.

3rd Writer Faces Trial

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Screen Writer Albert Maltz—the third of ten defendants in the "Hollywood Trials"—went on trial in U.S. district court today for contempt of Congress.

Federal Judge David A. Pine set Maltz's trial for today immediately after hearing a jury declare Writer Dalton Trumbo guilty of contempt. John Howard Lawson, another writer, also has been found guilty and is awaiting sentence.

All ten of the movieland figures under indictment are charged with refusing to tell the House unAmerican Activities committee whether they were communists.

Eight of them, including Trumbo and Maltz, also are under indictment on another count—refusal to tell the committee whether they were members of the Screen Writers guild.

Sawyer Takes Cabinet Post

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Charles Sawyer of Ohio was due to be sworn in today as secretary of commerce.

The former ambassador to Belgium was approved for the new post by a Senate voice vote late yesterday. He succeeds W. Averell Harriman, who was named roving ambassador for the economic cooperation administration.

Sawyer's swearing-in ceremony was scheduled for 3 p. m. (EST).

Singleton Still In Jail Hospital

CLEVELAND — (INS) — John W. Singleton, convicted new-used car swindler, remained in the hospital ward of Cuyahoga county jail today, pending bankruptcy hearings in Cleveland.

Convicted on 14 counts of larceny by trick, Singleton was sentenced yesterday to from 10 to 70 years in the Ohio penitentiary by Common Pleas Judge Frank J Merrick. Merrick overruled a motion for a new trial.

Welcome Growing Thin, Perhaps

Emperor Asks When Mac's Going Home

TOKYO—(INS)—Japanese Emperor Hirohito conferred for two hours today with Gen. Douglas MacArthur on the occasion of a sixth visit to the American supreme allied commander.

Among a series of questions put by the emperor, Hirohito asked the general when he planned to return to the United States.

Japanese sources informed International News Service that the question concerned MacArthur's plans, if any, regarding his return home was the principal one of the series, the general's answer was not disclosed.

Nor were any of MacArthur's replies to Hirohito's other questions which included:

When can Japan expect the conclusion of a peace treaty with the allies?

What levels of industrial production will Japan be permitted to maintain?

What American aid may Japan expect?

The meeting was held in Tokyo's United States embassy. The emperor arrived a little after 10 a. m., and left shortly after 12 o'clock noon.

Hirohito's personal call on the supreme commander was completely unheralded and no public announcement of the topics or results of the conference was made.

In these as well as in other respects, the visit was similar to the preceding five calls made by Hirohito on the American chief of the allied occupation.

Storms Pile Up For FCC

Blast In House Precedes Probe

Denunciation of the Federal Communications commission and Mansfield radio broadcasting Licensee Edward Lamb on the floor of the House in Washington appeared today as new lightning flashes in a long-brewing storm around the FCC.

Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La.), a member of the House un-American Activities committee, charged yesterday that Lamb, "a man drenched in communist writings, associations and affiliations" had been "given five radio permits in a period of two weeks by FCC, which keeps untainted red-blooded Americans cooling their heels outside their corridors," according to United Press dispatches from Washington.

Hebert referred to granting of FM broadcasting licenses to concerns controlled by Lamb for operation of stations in Mansfield, Springfield, and Erie, Pa., and granting of television licenses to Lamb-controlled concerns in Columbus and Erie.

Hebert told members of the House yesterday that the five licenses were granted to Lamb in a period of two weeks despite the fact that "good, ordinary businessmen" had been made to wait a much longer time to obtain licenses, United Press stated.

CITES JONES' STAND

Hebert said that FCC Commissioner Robert Jones of Lima was the only member of the commission to oppose the grants of Lamb, who Hebert told congressmen was active in communist front organizations.

Lamb, Hebert said, had "one of the most expansive records of association with the communist party in America, front organizations and fellow travelers of anybody to come to the attention of the (un-American activities) committee's attention."

Following Hebert's blast, Rep. Walter Huber, Akron Democrat, told Associated Press that he and several other members of the House intended to check the transcripts of the FCC hearings held preceding the grants of the five licenses to Lamb.

HAD KNOWLEDGE, CLAIM

Huber said that articles in the Mansfield News-Journal "indicated to me that the commission might have given further consideration before making grants to Lamb."

Plane Firm Sues Union

SEATTLE — (AP) — The Boeing Airplane company and the striking 14,500 members of the Aeronautical Mechanics Union jousted with a multi-million dollar suit and the threat of a counter suit today in the two-week tieup of heavy bomber production

The company filed a federal court action yesterday for $2,250,000 damages from the union under the Taft-Hartley act The complaint served notice the claims would increase as the strike continues to halt output of B-50 bombers and other aircraft.

The union announced it was preparing a suit asking $163,000 for every day of the strike for loss of wages and $140,000 weekly to repay strike benefits to its parent organization, the International Association of Machinists.

With other actions contemplated, the total sought would run to $5,000,000 at this date, a spokesman said.

Jury Sends 2 to Chair

CINCINNATI —(AP)— Death in the electric chair today faced two youths charged with the $6 holdup slaying of a taxicab driver.

A jury of five men and seven women last night convicted Asbelt (Buster) Adams, 19, and Charles Sparks, 23, of first degree murder in the fatal shooting of James Case, 31, near Newtown, O., on Jan. 24.

The verdict, without recommendation of mercy makes the death sentence mandatory.

Little Girl Needs Cards No Longer

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Death came today to four-year-old Donna Sue Patrick, whose suffering from leukemia brought thousands of greeting cards to her house from sympathetic strangers.

This morning, while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Patrick, stood by, life ebbed swiftly from the pretty, blue-eyed child as she slept.

Since last March when news stories of her illness appeared nationally, bulging bags of mail have been arriving for Donna Sue—some from persons as far away as Tokyo. There were cards, dolls and letters, including one from President Truman. So many came that the child began sharing them with hospital patients.

City Parks Ready For Auto Traffic

Roads To Be Opened This Week End

Although the city's parks are not scheduled for official opening until May 30, activities at the public playgrounds will be stepped up beginning tomorrow when barricades will be removed from roads leading into the parks.

Frank Burton, park superintendent, said workmen next week will begin removing chairs and tables from under the pavilions at Johns, Liberty, Prospect and North Lake parks and installing them inside the buildings. They have been stored under the structures during the winter.

The first picnics will be held at the parks May 14 when the Western avenue school will meet at North Lake park and the Lincoln Heights and Pavonia schools at Liberty park.

At present, workmen are in stalling playground equipment and that work will be completed by the end of next week, Burton said.

On May 17 installation of outside picnic tables and benches will begin and that work should be completed by the end of that week, Burton added.

Tennis court reconditioning on the five clay courts at Maple Lake park will be completed by tomorrow. The courts at Prospect park are ready for blacktopping now and the courts at Liberty park are being graded preparatory to blacktopping work.

Unless heavy rains fall, the parking lot at North Lake park will be hard-surfaced within the next two weeks.

Official park opening day will be May 30 when the swimming pool at Liberty park will be opened to the public.

Senior High Band to Play For 'GOP'

The 80-piece Mansfield Senior high school band has been invited to participate in the mock Republican convention to be held Friday at Oberlin college, J Merton Holcombe, band leader, said today.

The mock convention is held at Oberlin each presidential election year and at each convention two high school bands are asked to join in the big pre-convention parade.

Band members will leave at 11 a. m. Friday in three chartered buses and will be guests at the night GOP rally.

Teachers Go Back to Jobs

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—(UP)—Public school teachers returned to work today after a two-day strike that won them all their demands, including a $200 annual wage increase.

The walkout had closed 60 public schools to 95 per cent of Providence's 30,000 pupils.

The teachers agreed to return to work after the city promised a temporary single salary schedule of $2,400 to $4,800 annually, which meant an average $200 annual pay rise for each teacher.

Former Retailer Gets Job

Assumes Duties Next Monday

Earl T. Garrison, former Mansfield retailer, was appointed today as the city's new service-safety director, effective May 10. He will succeed Emmett L. Morgan, whose resignation becomes effective Saturday.

In appointing Garrison, Mayor Roy W. Vaughn said: "I've known him for the past 10 or 15 years; I've worked with him, and I feel he can do a good job. It's not a job you can be trained for; you've got to work into it and I believe Mr. Garrison has the ability to do it."

Mayor Vaughn said Garrison would receive his official letter of appointment sometime today. Garrison was named shortly before noon.

The new director, 45 years old, is former owner of the Sherman House furniture store which closed early this year. This is his first public job. Garrison is a Republican.

READY FOR JOB

"I'll just have to work into the job," Garrison commented. "I've a pretty good idea of what is expected."

A member of the First Lutheran church, Venus Lodge of the Masons, and the Exchange club, Garrison resides at 65 Bowman street. He is married and has one son who attends Wittenberg college.

Garrison will be the third service-safety director to serve the city since Mayor Vaughn took office. William Enlow, who started with Mayor Vaughn, resigned on Jan. 1, 1947, when he said the job had reached "proportions I no longer care to assume."

Morgan resigned to become manager of the Culligan Soft Water Service. He served the city 14 months.

Housing Bill Splits GOP

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House Republican leadership split sharply today with Senator Taft (R-Ohio) in an angry row over housing.

Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich.) of the House banking committee snapped a defiant "not interested" at the Senate-passed stopgap bill to revive the government's "Title 6" home loan insurance program until June 30.

Wolcott opened a deep grave for the bill when he made it clear he spoke for other House GOP leaders in telling a reporter:

"The Senate was informed last week that the House is not interested in a short term continuance. The House banking committee has not scheduled any hearings on the Senate's 60-day extension bill and it does not anticipate any."

Wolcott's plain brush-off brought into the open the long-smouldering housing dispute between a Senate group led by Taft and a House group headed by Wolcott. Taft is chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee.

The main issue in the scrap is the Taft-Ellender-Wagner long range housing bill designed to spur the construction of 15,000,000 new homes by 1958. The Senate passed the bill two weeks ago. Wolcott's committee is holding hearings on it

Wolcott left no doubt he regards the Senate insurance extender, backed by Taft, as a move to force his committee to send the T-E-W bill to the House floor, intact with its controversial section providing for 500,000 government-owned and operated public housing units.

Schooner Being Crushed By Ice

KODIAK, Alaska—(UP)—A fishing schooner with 17 persons aboard radioed an SOS today that she was being crushed by ice 30 miles north of Port Heiden in Bristol bay, Alaska.

The captain of the vessel radioed coast guard headquarters here that the ship had been hemmed in by a floating ice pack. He said she was taking water in the aft part of her hull.

This hasn't happened since the '49's giving land away. Now trailer space in Mansfield is very scarce. I am giving lots away, size 50x100 ft. to each person that buys a new trailer from me. You get a deed to lot and title for trailer. No extra cost for trailer. Nice laying lots. In effect until further notice. Lots are within one block of bus stop, and close to industrial district.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Lausche Invites Organization Dems to Get on Bandwagon

Ex-Governor Sweeps Into Nomination

Miller Silent After Defeat

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Former Gov. Frank J. Lausche today invited organization Democrats to climb aboard his bandwagon on the come-back trail.

He cautioned, however, there will be room only for "leadership whose principal purpose will be to serve the people."

Nearly complete returns from Tuesday's primary stamped Lausche as a rugged foe for Republican Gov. Thomas J. Herbert in the Nov. 2 election.

He campaigned as an independent against Ray T. Miller, former Cuyahoga county Democratic chieftain, who said Lausche couldn't hope to win without organization support.

But Lausche soundly trounced Miller, who had numerous county organizations, the CIO political action committee and prominent Democrats in his corner.

Returns from 9154 of Ohio's 9385 polling places gave Lausche 325,519 votes; Miller 137,729. Token totals went to two other aspirants. Robert S Cox of Millersburg got 17,260 and Joseph Torok jr, of Youngstown, 12,783.

Returns from 9180 polling places gave Herbert 551,326 votes. Two opponents were Albert E Payne of Springfield with 30,568 and William L. White of Newark with 30,846.

Miller reportedly left for Bermuda without issuing a statement but Lausche said he preferred to campaign against Governor Herbert with the regular party organization.

He asserted the organization's leadership must be friendly "beyond all doubt" to his candidacy and that of other party nominees.

Saying he never had wanted to head the Cuyahoga county Democratic organization, Lausche added:

"I am deeply interested, however, in having leadership whose principal purpose will be to serve the people and the people alone. It therefore goes without saying that I am concerned about who will be in charge of the state organization.

"It is my hope that a definite determination will be made to place good government first and patronage as a mere incident of good government."

PLEDGES SUPPORT

Lausche's statement followed a telegram to him from R. Kenneth Kerr, Lancaster Eagle-Gazette publisher and treasurer of Miller's campaign. He said:

"My support now goes to Frank J Lausche. For the good of all concerned, I urge you and those who were with us to declare publicly their purpose to stand by the choice of the people of Ohio and to give Lausche our fullest support."

Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer of Cincinnati, a Miller backer, said in Washington he will support Lausche.

Besides Kerr and Sawyer, the Miller camp boasted such party luminaries as ex-Gov. George White, former Sen. Robert J Bulkley, U. S. Treasurer W. A Julian and National Committeewoman Marie Dixon Low.

New Shelby Port Opens May 25

55-Acre Field Will Offer All Facilities

SHELBY—May 25 has been set as the date for opening of the new airport here by Montford and William Fischer of Bowling Green.

The opening, originally set for May 15, was delayed when construction work failed to keep up with the schedule.

The two veterans who own the 55-acre field will offer flight training under the GI bill, civilian flight training, charter trips, passenger rides, repair and maintenance work and hangar storage space, and will sell gas, oil, tires, and Piper Cubs.

Montford, who served in the air corps as a pilot in the European theater of operations, will direct the mechanical and service department work. William, who served as a pilot in the Western Training Command, will be flight instructor. Both men have pilots' licenses and often fly back and forth between Shelby and Bowling Green as they work on their office and hangar.

MOSTLY SELF-BUILT

At present, they are building an office building and hangar, doing the bulk of the work themselves. They keep their planes tied down on the ground. They already have an 1,800-foot north and south sod runway ready for use with markers placed. During the summer they plan to add a 2,100-foot northeast-southwest runway. Already, four or five planes have landed at the airport, Fischer reports.

Before the year is over, the Fischers plan to build a second and larger hangar. At present they have three planes, two Piper Cubs and a BT-13.

The new airfield is located on state routes 39 and 96 about one mile west of Shelby on a 55-acre tract of land leased from Urban Fisher. The field is on the south side of the road and has a slope to the south. The hanger, shop and office building now being constructed will include a 33 x 42 hangar and 20x20 office and waiting room.

FCC Blast Rocks House

Lamb Radio Permits Assailed on Floor

In his blast on the floor of the House, Hebert said that the commission might have overlooked information on Lamb in the files of the un-American activities committee but, he added, "we cannot say they didn't know anything about it" in view of the testimony of S. A. Horvitz, Mansfield News-Journal publisher at the FCC hearing on Lamb's application for a Mansfield station.

Horvitz told the commission, according to Hebert, that "I am convinced that Mr. Lamb is a communist, and he has proposed the overthrow of the United States form of government for the communistic form of government," Associated Press reported.

Speaking of Commissioner Jones' opposition to the Lamb radio grants, Hebert told the House that Jones "stood alone to the limit of his ability and jurisdiction against the disgraceful action."

POINTS TO DANGER

"Would that we had more Bob Joneses on the commission," Hebert said, "to protect our American way of life and to protect outstanding Americans from discrimination by those who would coddle the Lambs of this country, who perhaps in reality are Russian wolves of the Kremlin . . .

"I wonder where does this pattern of operations lead us? We have been told repeatedly that the communist method of infiltration has been to concentrate on key positions and effective means of production, transportation and communications."

Lamb, claiming he was the victim of a "smear attack," told Associated Press in Toledo that he had "denied being a communist many times."

Lamb, a Toledo attorney, is president, treasurer and director of Unity corporation, which obtained the FM broadcasting licenses for Mansfield, Springfield, and Erie; is president of the Record Publishing company which publishes the Erie Dispatch; and is the union lawyer who brought the portal-to-portal pay suits for the CIO United Automobile workers in 1946.

INQUIRY SLATED

Meanwhile as the words of Hebert still echoed in the ears of members of the House, the Senate Interstate Commerce committee was prepared to open hearings next Wednesday in its own investigation of the FCC.

Acting Chairman Charles Tobey of the Senate committee has announced that his group will conduct a full-scale inquiry into the FCC, looking into allocations, regulations and patent ownership.

Attorneys Get $1,400

Attorney's fees of $1,400 for defending Clarence Greer were authorized today by Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch. The money comes from a fund set up by the county to employ attorneys to defend persons who are unable to employ counsel.

The attorneys, Jacob Wagenhals and H. Eugene Ryan, were appointed by the court to represent Greer. Each of the attorneys is to receive $700.

Greer was taken to the Ohio penitentiary Monday after he was sentenced by a three-judge court to life imprisonment on a plea of guilty to first-degree murder.

Among expenses listed by attorneys were a three-day trip to Brownsville, Tenn., to interview Mrs. Odessa Taplor, widow of Ezell Taylor, one of two persons shot fatally by Greer. Also listed was a trip to Columbus.

Expenses included $75 to Dr. Alan B. Adam, psychiatrist, for an examination of Greer and for testifying in court, and $40 to Dr. Edwin A. Fensch, psychologist, for an IQ test for Greer and testifying in court.

Humphryes Head Named on Committee

W. C. Moore, president of the Humphryes Manufacturing company, has been appointed to serve on the industry advisory committees to the Office of Industry Co-operation, Department of Commerce, the department announced today from Washington.

Moore was the lone Ohioan appointed to the cast iron enameled plumbing fixtures industry advisory committee.

Seven other Ohio manufacturers were named to the four committees which will serve to carry out the activities in the housing field under the voluntary agreements program.

BLUE-TRI MEETS

Sophomore Blue-Tri members will meet at 7 p. m. today at the YWCA where they will present a skit, "Mrs. Smith Comes to Town." Jean Hathaway is president of this group and Miss Ann Knapp is adviser.

Association Pushes Project To Improve Maple Lake Park

Members of the South and Maple Lake Parks association voted last night to work this year for completion of the storm sewer through the park and the establishment of a grading project so that the park proper can be used.

In addition to these two projects, association members want to complete the rest room facilities early this summer.

A recreational program is expected to be started with warm weather.

It was voted to ask the city park commission to name an engineer on landscaping to draw up plans for the grounds development in Maple Lake park. The plans are to include a ball park, shelter house and automobile parking area.

Members also decided to have the bricks under the swings removed as a safety precaution. Robert LeFever was elected to serve as "special events" chairman.

A general discussion of park conditions followed. Refreshments were served.

First Book Projector Available

The first book projector and films are now available at the Mansfield library for use of bedfast patients in the city, Alex Turner, president of the Mansfield Lions club, announced today. Four other machines are on order, Turner said.

The club will serve as the servicing agent for the projectors, delivering and picking up the machines and demonstrating their use.

The $162.50 projectors have been purchased for patients in Mansfield hospitals and sick rooms, and are available to any person confined to bed and unable to read a book without aid.

A total of 25 projectors have been subscribed for by various civic organizations, unions and individuals.

Admission Tax Produces $1,691

Admission tax, collected by the city in April totaled $1,691, Mayor Roy W. Vaughn said today.

Last month's revenue on the three-per-cent tax showed an increase of $130 over the March collection of $1,561.

The tax is paid on all tickets to theaters, dances or other gatherings where admission is charged in the city.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills. —Adv.

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE — MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, MAY 6, 1948

It seems too soon to expect strikes to be confined to baseball games—the only place where they are cheered.

An observation following the Kentucky Derby: "Again it has been proved that one horse can run faster than another."

Underpass Obviously Needed

CITY COUNCIL should give serious consideration to the citizens' petition for construction of an underpass near North Lake park to permit pedestrian and vehicular traffic under the B. and O. and Erie railroads.

First off, the cry will go up: "Where do we get the money?" The only answer to that one is: "You get it from the taxpayers."

Certainly the taxpayers of Mansfield are ready to spend any reasonable sum to protect the lives of children in the northwest section of the city who now wander across unguarded railway tracks to get to school. And don't blame the youngsters! From Bowman street to Trimble road the city offers no guarded crossing of the two railroads. In fact, over this distance of a mile and a half, it offers no crossing at all!

The absurdity of isolating the whole northwest section of the town from the rest of the city and bottle-necking its traffic on Bowman and Springmill streets had long been apparent.

The need for a north-south thoroughfare across the low-lying railroad right-of-way west of Bowman has been talked about for 25 years. It is now time to get something done.

Tariffs That Obstruct World Trade

THE Trade Agreements Act, which expires on June 12, should be renewed, says the Foreign Commerce Committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce. As the Trade Agreements Act is designed to lower tariff levels of this and other countries, this approval by a national business organization is significant.

For a long time, importers were the only business group to favor lower tariffs. Others were almost automatically for high protection, whether they needed it or not, or even whether or not they profited by it.

Now business men are coming to realize that as the world's greatest creditor nation the United States is foolish to discourage foreign trade, and to refuse to let other countries pay their debts to us in the only way possible, that is, by sending us goods.

Many congressmen are still in the mental darkness from which the United States Chamber of Commerce has emerged. It is to be hoped that this will not stand in the way of renewing the Trade Agreements Act.

Ignorance of Geography Excused

PEOPLE who studied geography a generation and more ago will be interested in teachers' reactions to the results of a recent Gallup poll. An almost blank map was handed the victim, and he was asked to point out different states whose outline alone was given. The record, both for the average citizen and for the college graduate, was poor.

Dr. Harold C. Hunt, superintendent of Chicago's schools, claims that the populace has no need for shame about its ignorance of what he calls "place geography." This branch of study has had no emphasis in the schools for the past 20 years, according to the pedagogue. "It's more important for us to know 'social geography'—how people of a region live and what that region contributes to our economy," says Dr. Hunt. He emphasizes the importance of knowing where to find such knowledge when it is needed, rather than the accumulation of unrelated facts in the memory.

There is something to be said for this point of view, but reference libraries are not always handy when they are needed, and a reserve of factual information is often a useful fund upon which to draw. Students who were made to draw maps from memory have in mind a clear picture with approximate locations of states and important cities. The possession of this useful tool is no barrier to a knowledge of the social character of a given region.

Some educators seem never to have learned that the mental faculties grow by use. The more the memory or any other faculty is called upon to act, the greater becomes its power.

Qualifications For Airline Hostess

GIRLS, had you ever thought that you'd like to be an airline hostess? Well, according to Jane White, chief hostess of Capital Airlines, basic requirements for an airline hostess "are the same as those for a wife"—that is, Miss White explains, an airline hostess must be capable of treating passengers just as graciously and hospitably as though they were guests in the girl's home.

But there's a catch to it that doesn't ordinarily apply to acceptance as a wife. There's the restriction that applicants for airline hostess positions be between the ages of 21 and 26 and weigh between 100 and 125 pounds; also that they be no shorter than 5-feet 2-inches and no taller than 5 1/2-feet. Then, too, there must be a registered nurse's certificate or a college degree, although those with two years of college and two years of business or professional experience will be considered.

If young men were as careful in choosing a wife—and girls in the selection of a husband—as airlines are in picking hostesses it's a safe guess that there would be fewer hasty marriages, and also less business for divorce courts.

There's appearance of truth as well as rhythm in the Kansas City Star's observation: "Estates of rich men all remind up, if we make money all our lives. Junior comes along behind us and spends it all in changing wives."

A new type of burglar alarm is said to scream like a woman—obviously designed to scare away the intruder rather than capture him.

A committee is defined as "a group that keeps minutes and wastes hours."

What Some Other People Are Saying

REP. JUDD (R-Minn): "As long as one nation does not want the United Nations machinery to work, then the machinery, no matter how good it looks, is useless for such a crisis as we face today . . . until the monkey wrench is removed."

* * *

BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY BEVIN: "I have always felt that if we had only to deal with Russia we could settle matters—but we have to deal with communism."

* * *

SEN. BREWSTER (R-Me): "The nation has been carried into hopeless confusion on defense requirements by failure of the administration to present clear manpower needs."

It Might Have Educational Benefits.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

President Must Have Physical Stamina

PLAIN SPEAKING is in order on the critical importance of the health and energy of a chief executive of the United States. Physical qualifications should be foremost among the requirements for that office.

A solemn responsibility rests upon all delegates who will select candidates and upon those who write and speak for public guidance to take health into consideration in judging candidates.

To see intimately the day-to-day life of a president is to realize that his is the most demanding job in the nation—perhaps in the world.

Some presidents, like Coolidge, have given the appearance of calm and leisure. But that was an illusion. Even Coolidge died after only four years of retirement, at 61, which was far short of the span which might have been expected in a man of such hardy stock.

The day of a president begins early, with bedside or breakfast conferences, messages and problems. He must then make decisions about what he shall do with his day. No one can make these decisions for him. Then he blocks out a good part of his office time into five, ten or 15-minute conferences and interviews. Everyone who sees him wants something. These short visits are hard work for the president. He must think fast about how he can answer the requests, respond to the obvious or pass the buck to a subordinate.

And he must at all times sedulously guard his tongue, for even a president's most casual utterances are carried forth and repeated dozens of times, despite injunctions of secrecy. He must eat his lunch in the midst of this intense mental strain, which any adult knows is not good for the system.

Afternoon passes with more conferences, public appearances and the study of grave matters of state. His cabinet members are exacting in their demands. They are anxious to cover or reinforce their decisions with presidential approval. They disagree and often quarrel among themselves. These rivalries are always carried to the president. In addition, purely formal events, like the calls of foreign ambassadors and other dignitaries, take time, poise and thought.

* * *

Makes Final Decisions.

IT MUST be remembered that a president cannot delegate top decisions. Every big problem must pass his desk, and only he can say the final word. This is true, no matter how competent his advisers may be.

Evenings are often taken up with dinners, speeches or conferences. Official dinners are hardly enjoyed by anyone, especially by the host. Then, later, there is the inevitable pile of documents at the study table or beside the bed.

How a president can sleep after such a day and before another similar day is a problem that each president has had to figure out for himself. F. D. R. was fairly fortunate in his temperament. But we all saw the wear and tear of years finally pinch out the flame of life.

There is no such thing as presidential routine. The president's life is filled with the unexpected. Modern governments live from crisis to crisis.

It ought to be added further that, since the president is the most carefully guarded person in the country, he sees before him every minute evidence of constant precautions by secret service officers. It is not particularly soothing to the nerves to be continually reminded that life is in danger. Three presidents have been assassinated. Others have had narrow escapes. This demands something of vitality, even in a brave man.

Four presidents have died from causes that were at least aggravated or precipitated by official strain. Another, Wilson, was hopelessly broken.

These are a few of the considerations that conscientious delegates to the Republican convention should have in mind as they meet in Philadelphia.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

THERE is news of a Danish sailor who lived 111 years as a bachelor . . . then he married and was dead at 140 . . . Let this be a lesson to all single men.

* *

Actually they don't know whether he lived that long because he was a Dane, a sailor or a bachelor . . . and until we find out we will continue to issue marriage licenses to reckless young men.

* * *

All I know is that — years of married life and he was snapped into his shroud . . . just when he was going good

* * *

There's no telling how long he might have gone on had he stalled off the bridal march for another 50 or 60 years.

* * *

But this should settle the question of whether or not a man can live alone and like it . . . for the first 111 years the answer is "yes."

As Cerf Tells It

The late Charley Michelson, ghost writer of many of F. D. Roosevelt's greatest fireside chats, loved his chief, but did not stand in awe of him. At one press conference, the President joked, "The only news today is that Charley Michelson hasn't had a haircut in a month." From a corner, Michelson drawled, "Somebody's got to economize around here."

Washington Calling

Eisenhower's Transition

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THE SCRIPT of the Eisenhower drama beats anything that Hollywood could probably dream up. We come now to the place that says, "Transition from military to civilian life."

Here is the solid red brick house on the edge of the parade ground at Fort Myer, Va. The view is off toward Washington in the misted distance. Here the Eisenhowers have lived during and since his tour of duty as chief of staff.

Outside, a line of soldiers stands in military formation. A band is playing. The general comes out briskly, with his wife at his side. They step into a waiting car. Slowly the car drives past the line of soldiers as the general stands at salute.

This is the end and the beginning. Few lives have been so crowded, so full of stress and strain and glory. Yet there is the suggestion that the new phase now beginning may unfold even greater drama.

The latest transition in Eisenhower's life takes place against a background of change and uncertainty on the world stage. That gives to it a symbolic importance above and beyond the human interest.

At the moment that he steps into a civilian role as president of Columbia University, the armed forces are in the middle of a grave crisis. Between the political pulling and hauling of an election year and the lack of any real unification of the armed services, confusion and uncertainty cloud the whole issue of defense and national security.

General Eisenhower became chief of staff on Nov. 19, 1945. While he was chief of staff, the army dwindled in strength to its present inadequacy.

How much, if any, of the blame for this rests on Eisenhower can be determined only in the longer judgment of history. But it is a fact that, both within the services and among some thoughtful civilians in the country, the question of Eisenhower's responsibility is being raised.

* * *

No "Superman" Available.

THE VITAL issue of adequate manpower for the services should have been pressed much earlier, so the criticism goes. The chief of staff should have taken this to the Congress and to the country. If he had made a sufficiently forceful and persistent appeal, the country would at least have been prepared for the crisis when it came. There would have been a backlog of opinion to support the emergency measures now called for.

This criticism seems to me essentially unfair. While Eisenhower might have spoken out more forcefully, he could not have stemmed the tide of American reaction against all things military. It was the inevitable reaction of a peace-loving nation after the fearful impact of the greatest war in history.

Eisenhower is not a superman as both his critics and his idolators imply. Aware of his own limitations, the general has been deeply disturbed by the superman aspect of the Eisenhower presidential boom.

He saw in it the symptom of a troubled time, with people looking for some magical way out of the harsh dilemma of the present.

And no one could know better than General Eisenhower, who has seen so many men tried and tested, that the solution does not lie in any single individual.

But when all this has been said, the situation faced by Eisenhower's successor as chief of staff remains a grim reality. Gen. Omar N. Bradley will have to try to make up for the deficiencies of the past two years. He will have to cope with the inadequacies of our present military establishment.

If Congress produces an ineffectual substitute for the draft, as now seems likely, then it is Bradley who will have to try to find a way to piece out what he is given. He inherits the accumulated troubles of the effort to adjust to peace in a world in which peace seems highly uncertain.

Argentina May Gain Role as Chief Ally

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Despite the many slaps Argentina gave the United States at the Bogota conference, Gen. Humberto Sosa Molina, Argentine war minister, is coming to Washington to discuss details of an agreement by which Argentine armament plants would be licensed by the United States to manufacture a number of the latest American weapons.

Sosa Molina is coming on the joint invitation of the national defense and state departments. Accompanying him are Gen. Manuel Savio, director of Argentine arms factories; Gen. Felix Urdipilleta, former minister of the interior, and various other high ranking officers.

Conclusion of this deal will mean that, for all practical purposes, Juan D. Peron's fascist Argentina has supplanted Brazil as our chief South American ally.

It will also be a personal triumph for pleasant, persistent Gen. Carlos von der Becke, former Argentine chief of staff, who spent almost two years selling Washington officials on the plan.

Von der Becke first arrived in Washington in June, 1946, and laid the arms-licensing proposal before Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Ike gave him no encouragement, although there was much favorable sentiment and attempted pressure on lower levels of the war department.

Now Secretary of State Marshall, who always thought well of the idea, has become convinced that it should be put into practice, and has brought Gen. Omar Bradley around to his view. As usual, Mashall's decision was based strictly on strategic considerations, without regard for the ideological or political angles. Unfortunately, the effect on Brazil and other staunch friends of the USA will probably be disastrous.

Exit John Snyder?

DESPITE all the denials, it looks more and more as if Secretary of the Treasury Snyder is leaving his job in the Truman cabinet to join the Gianninis' Bank of America, largest bankers in the USA.

Big, bluff, genial A. P. Giannini was in Washington the other day at a significant luncheon. Luncheon host was Eric Johnston, dynamic head of the motion picture producers, and a director of Giannini's bank. Other guests included Paul Hoffman, head of the Marshall Plan; Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, A. P. Giannini, Walter Braunschweiger, Giannini's executive vice president and Roland Pierotti, Giannini's Washington representative. John Snyder seemed to feel right at home among all the Gianninis.

When Tom McCabe was appointed chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, replacing Giannini critic Marriner Eccles, the venerable west-coast banker was given credit for getting Eccles out. Though he denied this, it was interesting to note that last week in Washington, Giannini and the man who replaced Eccles as Federal Reserve Board chairman, Tom McCabe, huddled alone in Eric Johnston's office.

Note — President Truman, though making a public commitment to appoint Marriner Eccles vice chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, so far has failed to come across. Some people are attributing this to the strong hand of the Gianninis via John Snyder.

Speculating Ta Dodgers.

THE honeymoon appears to be over for those commodity speculators who have been manipulating their "long" and "short" trading accounts to evade income taxes.

The Internal Revenue Bureau has started an investigation of more than 600 speculators and their use of a loophole in the tax laws by which they convert short-term purchases and sales into those acted within six months into long-term (over six months) accounts. By this simple device they escape taxes on 50 per cent of their profits.

All the speculators have to do to reap this windfall is keep their accounts "open" on their books longer than six months. They do this simply by instructing their brokers to delay payments.

The Commodity Exchange Authority, which tipped off the treasury department about the tax-dodgers, estimates that last year they knocked down around $5,000,000 in unpaid taxes.

GOP Merry-Go-Round.

SPEAKER Joe Martin's friends claim they've made a deal with the Dewey crowd to switch all of New York's 97 Dewey delegates to the Speaker if it becomes clear Dewey can't make the grade . . . Governor Driscoll of New Jersey will be the favorite son of the New Jersey delegation on the first ballot in Philadelphia. On the second ballot, the boys will switch to Stassen . . . Pennsylvania Republicans are split wide open. The powerful political machine of Joe Pew, Sun Oil company, is now reported definitely though quietly for Stassen. However, Senator Ed Martin is for Taft. In the end, Stassen will get most of the Pennsylvania delegates after the first ballot . . . In West Virginia Stassen is expected to take over the entire delegation. . . . Governor Dewey is sticking a lot on the Oregon primary. However, Stassen's stock is rising and he may come out the favorite . . . In brief, Stassen will go to the Philadelphia convention with far more delegates than ever expected, though he will probably be euchred out in the smoke-filled rooms.

Explaining a Statement.

Editor News-Journal:

In Tuesday's editorial you quoted me as saying on the Sunday evening panel on "Religious Education in the Public Schools" that I referred to myself as teaching "ethics, morals, history and culture"; and by making such a statement that I excluded the public school teacher from doing the same. (I definitely do teach them).

So many times one is prone in making judgment without knowing the entire situation. In this instance a question had been sent to the moderator from the audience, addressed to me, asking this question: "Do you ever teach sectarian religion in your classes?" If you will take my answer in this light, do you not see that you have made a wrong implication? And I would very much appreciate a correction of the interpretation upon my statement that you have given the general public.

With the fine co-operation that I have had from every teacher in the Mansfield system, it would be very unkind for me to even think such a thing. And in view of the fact that I was a public school teacher myself, it would be more absurd than ever.

Assignment: America

What's Really 'Secret'?

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — Attention, newspapers with Washington correspondents:

Better send a memo to your men in the Capitol not to report any exclusive they get from the members of Congress. They're liable to get bounced into the bastille for a year or so, and maybe fined a thousand bucks which obviously would go on the expense account.

It seems that (surprise! surprise!) congressmen are not accountable for what they say. Or at least, they're not accountable all alone.

That is to say honestly, it's that confusing), if they say something they shouldn't, and somebody listens to them, and that somebody happens to work for a newspaper for a living and prints what they said in his paper, well then he's up and committed himself a crime—even if the congressmen involved didn't mention they shouldn't have said it.

Anyhow, that would be the situation if a bill which is now up before the House for debate should become law.

How this all came about is somewhat of a long story, so maybe we'd better start at the beginning . . .

In the first place, legislatively speaking, the bill was drafted by the House expenditures committee which is headed by Republican Representative Clare E. Hoffman of Michigan who (it is rumored) never has been overly fond of newsmen anyhow—but leave us not get personal. Somebody might mistake us for a congressman.

In theory, the bill is designed to force government agencies to give Congress any confidential information it wants. This, as you may recall, has been quite a sore subject between the legislative and executive branches of our government in recent weeks.

In refusing to give out such information on certain occasions, the executive branch has implied—albeit indirectly—that perhaps certain congressmen couldn't be trusted with vital secrets, such as the latest lowdown on atomic energy and who's a communist and who isn't, so to speak.

(Also, some of the solons are sore because they think federal agents have been checking up on the legislators' loyalty, and naturally they want to know what was found out.

* * *

What's a "Secret?"

ACTUALLY, the executive people had a point, since certain quite definite laws tie the tongues of administrative hirelings on situations of high secrecy. Unfortunately, no such law controls congressmen who can bleat their brains out after a secret hearing.

Therefore, this new law technically is an effort to correct that condition. As to how it would work, you may judge for yourself.

In effect, it would permit the congressional committee involved to decide what part of the vital information it received should be kept secret and what part should be made public.

Naturally, it follows that the committee members would have the power to overrule any technical advice on this point. In other words, a politician who didn't know the difference between an atom and an atomizer could make public data which our enemies would dearly love to get.

But, says this new measure piously, as soon as it was decided what should be kept secret, anyone who "leaked" such secrets would be punishable by one thousand dollars fine and one year in prison.

And, said Congressman Hoffman, the bill's author, newsmen would be among those who could be fined and jailed for publishing confidential information.

Now this might sound perfectly fair, except for one thing. When a congressman confides in a newsman, particularly, on the doings in secret sessions, normally there is no one else present. Therefore, if said congressman subsequently decided to deny that he had given said newsman such information, it would be only one man's word against another.

Seriously, it's doubtful if that phase of the bill will ever be passed, but the rest of it may. And there are people who feel that a policy permitting politicians to overrule such experts as atomic scientists on points of vital secrecy would be even more pernicious than throwing a few reporters in the pen.

Farmer's Diary

Adventurous Young Pigs

By CALVIN A. BYERS

THE Hampshire gilt had nine pigs while I was away. They are nearly four weeks old now, and I wish you could see them! Every one is a neat little replica of its ma, black with a wide band of white around the shoulders and forelegs.

They are adventurous young upstarts, too. They skitter out through the fence when the sow is confined and investigate the whole premises. They are so plump and silky that when they run it is comical to see them. Their clean black and white accents the landscape no matter what they are doing. They have a tendency to follow anything that moves ahead of them.

Once Skipper, the black spaniel, came across their path and all fell in line and followed him toward the house. Much embarrassed, Skipper tried to run away. His pursuers increased their pace, and made noises unmistakably pleading for the impossible. The harassed dog turned about growled fiercely then nipped the nearest piggy until it squealed and made a quick about-face. Immediately nine bouncing rears retreated toward the hog pen, where their mother began to advise and comfort them.

The sow is losing some of her silkiness and vivid coloring. Her pendulous nipples are flabby after every feeding. She maintains strict discipline, though, and determines when mealtimes shall be.

I saw her stretched out, with the young ones tumbling and pulling at her udder. Their backs are almost square, so well-rounded they are, and so eager. After a few moments of this, the sow gave an unmistakable warning grunt, then turned with her belly against the ground, and looked back at the lot of them.

"Don't be such hogs," she said, with a twinkle in each bright eye.

Whimpering and complaining, each overstuffed piggy still begged for more.

We shall keep several sow pigs for next year's gilts, and dispose of this year's sows after the first litter. In that way, all but a few of our stock can be marketed or butchered late this fall, and there will be less barn work to do during the cold winter weather. The number we shall "feed out" will be determined by the size of our corn yield this year.

Anti-Trust Suit Names Optical Firms, Doctors

WASHINGTON—(UP)—The government has filed anti-trust charges here against six mid-west optical firms and all doctors who do business with them The eye doctors were alleged to have received rebates from the companies on the sale of glasses

The justice department filed four separate civil suits against the companies and the doctors. Two were filed in Chicago, one in Minneapolis and one in Columbus, O.

The optical firms were accused of making—and the doctors of accepting—rebates of approximately half the price of eyeglasses sold by the companies to patients of the doctors

The justice department said this amounts to price-fixing and is a violation of the anti-trust laws

The suit named as defendants all the doctors doing business with the six optical firms Several doctors were named specifically in each suit as representative of all the eye doctors in that area

Companies in the Columbus area named in the suits were the White-Haines Optical company, Columbus, and two subsidiaries, the White-Haines Optical company of Springfield, Ill, and the White-Haines Optical company of Detroit

Attorney General Tom C Clark said rebates force eye patients to pay about twice as much for glasses as they would have to pay if no rebates were given to the eye doctors

Kids Feared By Dentists

ST LOUIS — (INS) — Dr Stanley C Brown of Ithaca, Mich, says there are more dentists afraid of children than there are children who are afraid of dentists

Dr. Brown who specializes in children's dentistry addressed the St. Louis Dental society last night. He said the fear of youngsters crying or wiggling in the chair has caused some dentists to decide they can't treat children

Dr Brown said any dentist can give adequate treatment to children if he will apply himself, overcome his fears and realize that fewer children are afraid of the dentist than the practitioner believes.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"What's Your Opinion, Mister?"

Fellow from one of those public opinion polls was in Andy's Garden Tavern, querying Andy's patrons on everything from that "new look" to the next election

And it occurred to me that there's nothing more typically American than collecting other folks' opinions, as well as giving out with one's own And from where I sit, it's a mighty healthy habit.

So long as people can discuss both sides of a question that comes up—whether it concerns short skirts versus long, beer compared with cider, or the larger issues of party versus party—we're sure of the individual liberty that has made this country great.

For it isn't differences of opinion that matter. The important thing is tolerance for differences of opinion—whether they affect the right of an individual to vote, to speak his mind, or enjoy a glass of beer. They're all parts of the freedom that we cherish!

A Weak, Run-Down Feeling Is Often A Warning
That The Red-Blood Is Getting Low
If you do not feel like your real self, do not have the urge to be up and doing, why not check-up on your blood strength? Look at the palms of your hands, your fingernails, your lips, the lobes of your ears—are they pale and off color?
Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.
To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.
Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.
Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health. —Adv.

Fate Led Wallace to Roerich, Henry's Nature Did the Rest

IN 1928 there came to the corn-breeding farm of Henry Wallace at Ames, Ia., a Soviet Russian scientist named Borodine to learn what he could about the improvement of the breed of corn. He and Henry had a long talk. Henry had waived his chance to broaden his horizon in 1917 and 1918 by claiming deferment in the draft.

He was fascinated by the stranger's talk of places far beyond the Iowa line.

When Borodine was leaving, the country boy drove him to the railroad station and Borodine told him about the great Professor Nicholas Roerich, an artist of renown and the outstanding cultural influence of the age.

★

There will be some who will suspect that Mr. Borodine was sent all the way from Moscow to needle a simple hayshaker with goofy tendencies, but actually it seems that nature and fate did the monkey business. Not even Stalin could have known then that the Henry Wallace whom the neighbors sometimes regarded with amusement would one day become secretary of agriculture and, on a later day, the candidate of the communists for president of the U. S. A.

In those days, Henry came to New York no oftener than once in 18 months or so. The next time he did go down to the city, late in 1928, he called at Roerich's publicity plant.

With a suppressed cry of "Hello Sucker!" they went to work on that hick and sent him away loaded with pamphlets telling what a genius Roerich was. Henry was very well up on corn and you couldn't fool him on fertilizer. But when the press agent sounded off about the deeper meanings of Roerich's paintings he could just about manage the opinion that they certainly were real purdy pitchers, at that.

They didn't let him meet Roerich then. They didn't even let him see the master. Still, Henry was, as he put it a few years ago, completely taken in and for a long time thereafter he read and believed every issue of Roerich's magazine.

As he looked back over his foolishness, Henry realized that Roerich had played him for a chump and hadn't admitted him to his presence more than a few times in all their association.

He recalled that Roerich's "exclusiveness" made him seem desirable to know. Much too late to recall his writings and actions, he suspected that this was all showmanship by the great, mystical guru.

★

He speculated the opinion that one way to make a man seem great was to keep him out of sight and get people to say wonderful things about him.

The next time Henry got to New York was in 1929. He was then on his way to a conference of European agricultural economists and the sap recalled that he was thrilled beyond measure when he was told that it might be possible to arrange an interview of a few minutes with the old professor.

Comments on Happy Era When Vaudeville Was Still In Flower

THE GOOD OLD TWO-A-DAYS—In a recent issue of Variety staffer Joe Laurie jr. saluted the Palace theater (mecca of the 2-a-day) which reached its 35th milestone. It was a fascinating essay by one who was a feature of the big-time places most of his professional career . . . His film story, "April Showers" (Warners), is an accurate document of the old vaude days. The movie reminded us of these paragraphs.

★

Elbert Hubbard, the famed humorist, played the music halls at one time. He created this tribute to the agelessness of the actors: "Vaudeville performers are all children. They never grow up. The gods love them, for they die young no matter how long they live" . . . You never really lived they used to say, until you played the Palace (at 47th and Broadway), and if your act "died" there, it had to be because it was pretty bad. The Palace audiences were pushovers for the competent and if you were booked there, the wages didn't matter. The prestige of playing it was worth a career.

★

Radio isn't anything like vaudeville, where, when you had an act the audiences appreciated, you could go along with it for seasons. Classic example: Victor Moore and his wife, Emma Littlefield, played the same routine for three decades. They never changed a line—not one . . . Once they tinkered with a paragraph or two and managers screamed and tore their toupees. The original lines were returned . . . And the irony of it . . . The Moore-Littlefield specialty was called: "Change Your Act!"

★

The 4 Marx Brothers never got "big headed" . . . "We always remember that to get from Syracuse to Broadway it took up eight years. And it is only eight hours back on the sleeper."

★

If you're a night clubber, you are familiar with the heckling many acts take . . . Some drunks or show-offs (lit up with dizzy-water) enjoy insulting the entertainers . . . They have tried to break up the Berles, Jessels, Youngmans, et al, all of whom, however, are no comics to twit. Their rejoinders have devastated hecklers.

Perhaps the top retort (to a pest out front) was that pulled by George Rosenor, the big-timer. It was at the old Columbia burlesk house (where the Mayfair now is) and on Sabbaths the 6 days a week burlesk gave way to vaudeville bills . . . A galleryite (during a tacit moment in Rosenor's serious act) flung a penny . . . It sounded like a bomb in the silence.

Rosenor halted the act, removed his wig, looked up at the gallery and intoned: "Will those seated near the person who threw that coin take a good look at him?" . . . The spectators in the vicinity of the heckler naturally turned and looked. Then came the punchline . . . Rosenor (pausing only a moment) said: "Now that you have looked at that person—you have a very good idea why we have birth control." The applause was deafening.

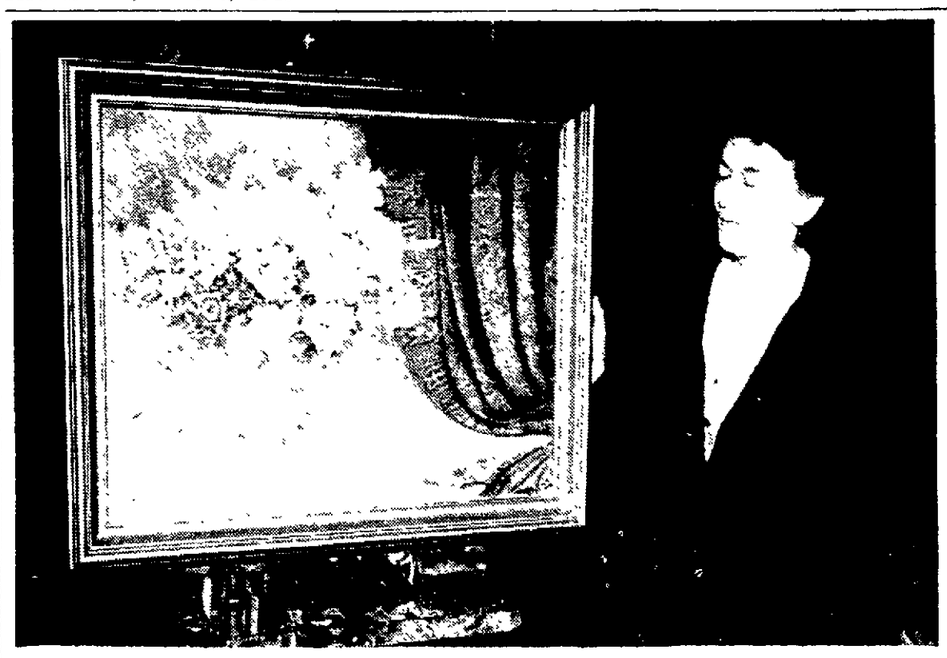
Shovel Brigade To 'Fix' Road

Richland county sportsmen will form a pick and shovel brigade Sunday to repair the road to the Richland County Fish and Game cabin at Charles Mill lake.

Members of the association have been urged to meet at the cabin road Sunday, ready for action.

The new earth road has been made soft and full of ruts by recent rains. Members intend to get it ready for gravel so that the cabin will be easily accessible for the coming summer season. The road is about one-tenth of a mile long.

Bulldozers and grading equipment have been donated for the job.



TOP WINNER—Mrs. Ruth Curren of Shelby won first prize of $25 at the third annual exhibition judging of the Mansfield Fine Arts Guild.

YOUNGEST WINNER—Patsy Smith, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell L. Smith, 186 West Fourth street, won honorable mention for her pen and ink drawings.

Grandmother Wins Coveted Art Prize

By NITA BRANSON

New England has its "Grandma Moses" and Richland county has its "Grandma" Curren, but there's a matter of some 20 years difference in their ages.

Both, however, have found in their "grandmother days" that living has suddenly become interesting and vital because of an ability to put a beautiful idea on canvas with paint brushes and artist's tools.

Richland county's "grandma" is Mrs. Ruth Curren of Shelby, who won the first prize of $25 for her oil painting in the third annual Mansfield Fine Arts Guild judging.

When she was a student at Ohio Northern university at Ada, Mrs. Curren, then Ruth Strong, took a few lessons in water colors. She dabbled a bit off and on, but nothing came of her artistic leaning.

She married and reared three children and found there was no time for easles and paint brushes.

Six years ago her latent desire to paint asserted itself. She bought artist's paraphernalia and started painting the things she liked.

"The thing I really like to paint the most is the human face," she said. "I wouldn't really call them portraits—that's too ambitious a word for my small attempts, but faces do interest me. Next to that I love flowers."

It is the flowers that won her a prize in the Guild exhibit.

PICTURES ROSES, LILIES

Her drawing is a big bouquet of pink roses and white lilies, exact in every minor detail and placed in a blue vase. Behind the vase of flowers, Mrs. Curren placed, with unerring instinct, her mother's old Paisley shawl, brought from London years ago. She has given to that shawl the same careful attention to detail that she gave the roses.

"Some of the roses came from my own garden," she recalled. "Next to painting, gardening is my hobby. I love to landscape my yard with flowers."

Her first prize this year is Mrs. Curren's second in Fine Arts Guild history. She won the second prize at its first exhibition three years ago.

She gives much of the credit for her revived interest in art to John Bernat, Mansfield artist and a founder of the Guild.

CREDITS BERNAT

"It was hearing about Mr. Bernat that made me eager to enter the show," Mrs. Curren explained. "When I learned about his art and his classes, it made me doubly interested in painting and knowing him has helped me a great deal."

On the opposite side of the picture from "Grandma" Curren is Patsy Smith, who has caused a sensation among Guild members.

Patsy is only 13, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell L. Smith, 186 West Fourth street.

"These drawing of Patsy's are remarkable," Bernat said, as he held up the two house scenes she had drawn in pen and ink.

One of the scenes is the house across the street from Patsy and she has missed no detail. The drawings won honorable mention in the drawing class.

She began drawing seriously only a year ago through the encouragement of her art teacher at John Simpson, Mrs. Alice Twitchell.

"Mrs. Twitchell wants me to go on with my art and I think I would like to be a designer of some kind. Not clothes. I don't think I'm good enough for that, but some other sort. I want to go to art schools when I graduate," she said.

OFF TO GOOD START

Patsy may be mistaken about the ability to design clothes for she's made a pretty fair start toward being an artist, Bernat thinks.

Patsy is almost as interested in becoming a first class Girl Scout as she is in her drawing. She's a member of Troop No. 50 and is all "hepped up" about her impending promotion in scoutdom.

But her eyes sparkle when her art entries are mentioned. It's easy to see she's pretty excited about that "honorable mention" too.

She's the youngest artist who ever exhibited in the Guild showings here.

She was a member of the Christian church in Shelby. She was the widow of John Fisher.

Friends may call at the funeral home after noon Friday.

Re-check Started By Board

Winners In By Big Margins

Official count of the votes cast in Tuesday's primary started today. The election board plans to have the re-check done by Monday, and has called a meeting for 2:30 p. m. on that day to go over the official count.

Making the official count of the 10,079 votes are Board Clerk Thomas R. Zeigler, Walter Underwood, deputy clerk, Mrs. Aneita Davidson and Mrs. Pearl Scott.

Zeigler and Mrs. Scott are Republicans and Mrs. Davidson and Underwood are Democrats.

If there should be minor changes in the tabulation, the results probably will not be altered since winning candidates won by appreciable margins.

STATEMENTS DUE

Candidates and committees or groups must file their statements of campaign expenditures by May 14, Zeigler reported. On receipt of the statements, nominees will receive their certificates of election.

Edward R. Friday, Republican nominee for clerk of courts, pointed out today that he received 3,521 votes, not 2,556 votes as reported yesterday.

The lesser figure was the number of votes received by his father, John C. Friday in his successful bid for one of the two Republican nominations for county commissioner.

Route 42 To Be Open

Motorists can expect to use Ashland road again by Friday night, E. W. Davis, street superintendent, said today.

Closed for the past 12 days for the installation of a new sanitary sewer interceptor, the highway will get a new coat of asphalt tomorrow and will be opened to traffic.

B. V. BeVier, sanitary engineer, said the 36-inch interceptor has been laid across Ashland road and that work will continue to connect the big line to a former 20-inch sewer.

The $20,000 job which only scratches the surface of a big sewer system in that vicinity will include repair of the line which was broken down in places and badly damaged in others, BeVier said.

The engineer said a complete new sewer system for the northeast section of Mansfield would cost "about $150,000."

"If they give us some more money, we'll finish the job as it should be done," BeVier added.

Mather Named Massillon Grid Coach

Writer Talks About OSU Grid Situation

By JOHN BARRINGTON

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Wesley Eugene Fesler is in the unfortunate position of a swimmer in the center of a maelstrom.

The curly haired impresario of Ohio State university's shaky football fortunes apparently is caught in an inexorable whirlpool.

The situation is one which he has had only a small part in shaping. Yet, barring unforeseen developments, he is likely to be the victim, the fall guy, the scapegoat of that situation.

Doubtless, someone warned the former All-American end about tricky undertows when he accepted the Ohio State coaching job a little over a year ago.

Maybe it was that very warning that enforced Fesler's desire to return to his alma mater as chief football factotum.

The likeable Fesler stepped slap-dab into an almost untenable position.

The pity of it is that one of the Buckeye institution's athletic immortals, and a very promising coach as well, must come in for considerable grief in such circumstances.

Briefly, the forces tugging ruthlessly against each other may be diagrammed thusly:

1. The almost insatiable desire of Ohio State followers for victorious teams; and, hand in hand with that, the never flagging overoptimism in pre-season evaluations.

2. The intense factionalism involving those who worshipped for many years at the shrine of former Athletic Director L. W. St. John, as opposed to those who disapproved of every St. John action right down to the way he tied his shoes.

3. The unique position of Paul Brown, former Buck coach and now head of the powerful Cleveland Browns. Undeniably a football genius and a man of immense personality, Brown has a huge following and a surprising desire to return as OSU coach-athletic director.

4. The fact that Fesler assumed the grid post after OSU football fortunes were already on the downgrade; and that he took office simultaneously with a new athletic director, a new assistant director and even a new ticket chieftain.

In the latter connection, the triumvirate of Fesler, Athletic Director Dick Larkins and Ticket Director Oscar Thomas made their full share of mistakes as freshmen in administration of the vast Ohio State athletic enterprise.

★

PROBABLY the most serious and glaring fault was a weakness in that nebulous thing known as public relations. Time and again, each of the trio took the press and public into its confidence when it would have been wiser not to do so—and failed to share information that should have been public property.

Larkins and Fesler made themselves look particularly bad by publicly decrying real or fancied proselyting of Ohio high school athletes by other schools.

It is undoubtedly vexing to lose good prospects to other schools. It is, however, hypocritical to represent such a situation as new or unusual.

Other fine Ohio schoolboy athletes have peddled their services to the highest bidder ever since college football began to grow up into a major undertaking. By the same token, athletes have from time to time crossed the state line to do or die for Ohio State.

★

BUCK MOGULS are sincere in their alarm over the cold shoulder their overtures are receiving in scholastic ranks, but there is no use sidestepping the real reason.

Fesler was the fourth Ohio coach in five years. Such constant changes have a discouraging effect upon the boy who is choosing a coach and a system under which to play his collegiate football.

It is scarcely logical that another change would stabilize the OSU picture.

Watts, Marks Pitch No-Hit Ball Contest

Senior high's already well fortified pitching staff received additional help yesterday when two reserve team pitchers served formal notice that they are ready to join the varsity hurling corps.

The pair, Sparkie Watts, varsity shortstop and Lefty Dave Marks did it in most convincing fashion—by pitching a no-hit game. Watts tossed four hitless innings and Marks three as the Tyger reserves shut out Lexington's varsity, 3-0, on the Blue Goose diamond. Lexington, county runnerup, competes in the district tournament today at Old Fort.

STRIKE OUT SEVEN

Only three hit batsman and one error kept the pair from a perfect game. Watts hit two men and Marks one while a man got on by error in the final inning. Neither walked a single batter. Watts struck out seven and Marks two.

The reserves scored in the third inning on hits by Charles Marchant, Johnny Stranski, and Bob Hartnett. In the sixth inning, a double by Hartnett, single by Cy Elsass and some loose fielding by Lexington gave the Coach Mike Byelene's locals two more tallies.

Practice Data

Four softball teams will work out on city diamonds at 5:30 p. m. this evening. They include: Central Methodist, Liberty; Greystone Night club, Johns; VFW, Prospect; and Post 72 at North Lake park.

Greystone Night club will play a practice softball game against Johns park tonight on the Johns park diamond.

Schofer Takes Over Basketball

Charles V. Mather, 33, director of athletics and head football coach at Hamilton high school, has been named to the vacant football coaching position at Massillon's Washington high school.

In a special meeting of the Massillon board of education yesterday afternoon, Mather was given a two-year contract. Mather's contract calls for $5,500 the first year and $5,800 the second, probably making him Ohio's highest paid scholastic coach.

Signing of Mather ends a long six-week search for a replacement for Bud Houghton, who resigned at Massillon, to accept the grid coaching job at Akron university. Approximately 50 leading high school coaches in Ohio, West Virginia and Indiana had applied for the post.

Paul Schofer, who had been head basketball mentor and assisted Mather in football at Hamilton, also was hired yesterday, getting a two-year contract at $4,500. Schofer will coach the Tiger cagers and grid backfield men.

HELP IN PROGRAM

In addition to their football duties, the two new Tiger coaches will be important figures in the expanded physical education program now being developed by the Massillon board of education.

A graduate of Ohio Northern in 1937, Mather started his coaching career at Brilliant, Ohio. He won letters in football, basketball and baseball at Northern and introduced football at Brilliant. His 1937 team lost seven straight but the '38 eleven won four, lost three and tied one. In 1939, Brilliant won six and lost two.

Mather moved to Leetonia in 1940 and his club won seven, lost one and tied one. The loss and tie were in the first two games of the season and then Mather's teams won 28 in a row. His 1941 team won 10 straight and was the state's highest scoring machine.

He spent three years in the Coast Guard and returned to Leetonia in 1945, winning eight and tying one. Leetonia, only a Class B school, played six Class A opponents.

At Hamilton, in 1946 Mather's team won six, lost three and tied one. Last season, he started with only four lettermen and lost three of them in mid-year. The Big Blue won nine of ten games, losing only to Springfield. Included in the victory list were Mansfield, Portsmouth, Toledo Libbey and Middletown.

FINE CAGE COACH

Schofer is 34 years old and long has been regarded as a fine basketball teacher. He was an All-Ohio football guard at Wittenberg in 1935. He spent nine years as basketball and football coach at Wapakoneta before moving to Hamilton last year.

His grid teams won 53, lost 26 and tied two and his cage clubs copped 98, lost 44. The Wapakoneta cagers three times won the Western Buckeye league title and twice copped the Class A district title. Schofer's cagers opened the Mansfield home season two years ago.

Mather and Schofer will remain at Hamilton until school closes in June. They will open fall practice Aug 20 at Massillon.

St. Louis Deals Paying Off For Boston Red Sox

By JACK HAND, AP Sports Writer

The Boston Red Sox' $375,000 deals for Junior Stephens, Jack Kramer and Ellis Kinder finally begin to look like good business.

Red Sox fans had their misgivings when wins failed to follow the cash outlay. Up to five days ago, neither Kramer nor Kinder had thrown a ball for Boston. Stephens, the boy who was supposed to knock holes in Fenway park's leftfield wall, was hitting a sorry .220.

Events of the last few days have served to change that picture. Kramer won himself a ball game Saturday and yesterday Stephens hammered an 11th inning homer that gave Kinder a relief decision.

FOURTH STRAIGHT

Still far below par at .255, Stephens is beginning to find the Fenway range. Yesterday's clout off Dizzy Trout was his most telling blow for Boston. It accounted for the Sox' 4-3 win over Detroit, their fourth straight victory.

The Pittsburgh Pirates continue to sizzle in the National, rolling to their sixth straight win by a 3-2 shade over Boston. It was their first test against a club supposed to be a pennant contender and they came off in fine shape. They now lead the second place New York Giants by a full game.

Cincinnati's Kent Peterson, making his first start of the season after five bullpen jobs, limited New York to five hits in fashioning a 5-2 victory. Homers by Johnny McCarthy, playing first for the injured Johnny Mize, and Bobby Thomson provided the Giants' scores.

SCHOOLBOY OUT

The Phillies won a game from Chicago, 13-9, but lost the services of Pitcher Schoolboy Rowe for at least two months. Rowe suffered a fractured thumb on his left hand when struck by a liner off Peanuts Lowrey's bat. Although Rowe was hit freely before the accident, the Phils rallied to win for Sam Nahem, the ex-Bushwick who was picked up as a free agent last week.

Rain washed out the Brooklyn-St. Louis game in the National and the St. Louis-New York and Cleveland-Philadelphia games in the American.

Walt Masterson held Chicago to four hits in a night game at Washington, won by the Senators, 6-0, before only 3,846 fans. Al Kozar struck the big blow for Washington, a three-run double with the bases loaded off Glen Moulder in the fourth inning.

Schoolboys To Skish In 'Y' Contest

Schoolboys from all over Richland county will be present at the YMCA tonight to take part in the first Mansfield Skish contest.

Maurice Taylor of the YMCA revealed today that invitations had been extended to all high schools in the county as well as to the Boy Scouts, Friendly House and YMCA groups. All planned to send their best fishermen to the contest.

INDOOR CASTING

Skish, a form of indoor casting practice is the latest thing among fishing groups and has caught the fancy of many. It is understood that a regular skish program is to be adopted in the summer activities of one Richland county school.

Two groups will compete at 7 p. m. tonight, the 12-14 year group and a 15-17 group. An unlimited age adult group will meet next Wednesday.

Duke Hassinger, prominent local fisherman will give an exhibition of skish casting during tonight's program.

Work Starts At John Todd

Mansfield will have a new baseball field in a few days with the completion of work now under way on John Todd park.

A bulldozer was at work at the park yesterday cutting down trees on the south end and a maintainer will smooth out the ground today. City Recreation Director Stan Kamen revealed that the field will be large enough for baseball as well as softball.

All work is being done by the county engineer's office.

Galion Takes Pair of Tilts

GALION — Galion High school Tigers baseball team chalked up two victories this week, winning yesterday afternoon over the Ashland Hilltoppers, 2 to 0 at Heise park field here. Tuesday, the Tigers won from Marion's Harding High team, 4 to 1, here.

In the game with Ashland, Ray Seif, 14-year-old pitcher for Galion allowed one hit, by Ashland pitcher Dick Messner. Galion made three hits in the game.

Leo Smith, Tiger pitcher, allowed only two hits in the Marion game, Tuesday.

New London Nine To Play Taverns

NEW LONDON — The New London Merchants baseball team will journey to Mansfield, Sunday afternoon to meet the Mansfield T. & E. Tavern team on the Liberty park diamond. Both teams had their opener rained out last Sunday.

The Merchants will appear in their new cream colored uniforms. Three players have been added to the New London roster. They are: Gil Shellhouse and Sam Zuber, of Wellington and Charles Coultrip of New London.

Bissman's, Mitsch's Tie For 'A' Title

By CHARLEY STINE

After 99 games of bowling, the City A league ended in a dead heat at the close of the scheduled final round of action last night on the Colony alleys. Bissman's and Mitsch's Corner store were tied with 64 victories and 35 losses and will settle things with a playoff Friday.

Paced by a fine exhibition of bowling by Bob Lynch and Phil Warga, Bissman's rolled over Mid-Ohio in three straight games. Mitsch's, meanwhile lost two of three games to Liederkranz.

The Bissman machine was hitting on all five cylinders but Lynch and Warga were particularly brilliant. Lynch, the News-Journal Class A head pin champ, shot a 228-190-234 for a 652 series. Warga was more consistent but slightly to the rear with 223-217-204—644. Others on the team were Floyd Messmore 191-205-181—577, Art Hilborn 178-171-204—553, and John Leppo 173-166-190—529.

★

Although the Bissman team was red hot, their opposition, Mid-Ohio, refused to lay down and play dead. Fritz Vogel rolled a 190-204-248—642 and Charles Gerberich a 223-191-196—610. Emil Schroeder, Buck Farner and Arlie Hipp, who complete the team, were all over 500.

★

Five other 600 series were turned in the A league's final night. Fred Willis paced them with 230-188-228—646. Others were: Bob Bieri 246-188-202—636; Farrell Hipp 210-205-207—622, Carl Englehorn 208-210-200—618, and Paul "Horse" Walrick 245-152-217—614.

★

Dearman's Transportation won the Commercial "B" league championship by three full games over Oak Park Tavern. Both teams swept their final night series.

Walrick rolled a 202-230-224—656, Lloyd Pugh 203-257-185—645, Skeets Wolfe 187-213-212—612, and Leroy Wolfe 156-215-235—606.

★

Dominion Electric and Ideal Panel will have a roll-off after tying for the lead of the Victory league. Ideal Panel tied for the lead by sweeping their final match while Dominion Electric lost one of three.

Al Noah took individual honors with 213-201-146—560.

Harrison Dillard Needs Four Wins To Equal Record

CLEVELAND—(UP)—Track star Harrison Dillard, who needs only four more consecutive victories to tie the world's record of 65, shot for three of them today in a triangular meet at Baldwin Wallace college.

He carried his consecutive win streak to 61 with three victories yesterday while representing Baldwin and Wallace in a dual meet with Ohio Wesleyan. The record is 65, set by Greg Rice of Notre Dame.

Dillard won the 100 yesterday in 9.8 seconds, the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.1 and the 220 lows in 22.5.

The mark for the lows equalled the presently-accepted world's record of which he is a co-holder. Dillard has a better time of 22.3, set in the NCAA championship last year, but that has not yet been accepted as official.

Baldwin Wallace won the meet yesterday, 89 to 38.

Simpson's Track Team Wins Meet

John Simpson junior high's track team is firmly established today as the favorite to win the annual Mansfield city cinder championship.

Yesterday afternoon, the Bulldogs romped away with honors in a triangular meet with Johnny Appleseed and Galion at Stadium field. Simpson scored 72 points in winning its second straight victory, while Appleseed came in with 45 points and Galion, 11.

Simpson and Appleseed meet for the Mansfield title May 27 at Stadium field.

The Bulldogs of Coach Bob Kennedy ran up seven undisputed first places with Appleseed taking three. George Shoulders, Simpson, was perhaps the outstanding performer, although the Bulldogs' Clarence Bailey was the top scorer with 11¼ points.

'Sanity Code' Test Imminent

CHICAGO — (UP) — A test of the NCAA "Sanity Code," designed to preserve the amateur purity of college athletes, imminent today.

Dr. James L. Morrill, president of the University of Minnesota and one of the staunchest supporters of the purity code, contended that the NCAA members could clean up sports at the conference level, but that the NCAA itself is inadequate because of its size.

Such a statement from a man who has twice spoken at NCAA conventions during the period when the "sanity code" was being developed could mean only that he knew of violations, or of practices which might be considered violations by the NCAA compliance committee.

This it appeared that the code, adopted by the NCAA with numerous strengthening amendments last January, was destined for a test within a year.

"Machinery to enforce the code has been set up," an NCAA spokesman said today, "and the NCAA is prepared for any steps to be taken under it."

At the same time the committee completed its plans for action on complaints of violations by any member schools. The enforcement machinery is based on thorough investigation at the institutional level, and the committee will investigate every reported violation.

Morrill made no specific charges against any institution. His speech was behind closed doors at session of the National Association of State Universities, but he made public a digest of his remarks.

The athletic conferences, he said, must furnish the purpose and machinery to enforce the high ideals of intercollegiate athletic competition. For the NCAA "can hardly be considered more than a 'least common denominator' of athletic reform."
